

At Ropewalk Chambers we are dedicated to significant investment in the service that we provide to all of our clients.

As part of this ongoing commitment, we are about to embark on a major construction project to modernise and refurbish our building.

Our client facilities will be greatly enhanced. We are to have six state of the art conference rooms, including a seminar theatre which will accommodate forty attendees. The client areas will have modern amenities and full services for those with disabilities.

Our aim has been to create a new front entrance and considerably upgraded conference facilities in a clean, modern elevation, whilst preserving the attractive Georgian features which give the building its distinctive character. We believe that the design achieves this aim. The computer mock-ups below give some idea of the final appearance.

The offices will house the latest information technology with wi-fi and video-conferencing suites.

The works are expected to last approximately six months, during which time all members and staff will vacate the premises. As of Monday 9th November 2009 and for the duration of the works we will temporarily relocate to:

Cumberland House, 35 Park Row, Nottingham, NG1 6EE

Telephone and fax numbers and the Document Exchange address remain the same.

In our temporary accommodation the ability to host conferences and settlement meetings will be extremely limited. We will happily discuss alternative arrangements as required to maintain our quality of service.

We look forward to seeing you next year in our new accommodation.
